Dear prospective student

Welcome to our safe campus!

Our concept @home@campus allows you to start in a pleasant, safe and well-considered learning and working environment at Artevelde University of Applied Sciences.

@home@campus: feel at home on our campus(es) and in the department of your choice. You are welcome for both contact time on campus and online. As a first year student or an international student, you can fully get used to the learning climate of Artevelde University of Applied Sciences.

@home: online contact time: don't worry, you will get plenty of interaction with the lecturers and supervisors here as well. You will train self-management and digital skills to work online, during which lecturers can be reached via chat or e-mail. Your lectures will be recorded and you can (re)watch them at home.

@campus: on campus you mainly follow classes that focus on practice, skills, coaching and/or collaborative learning.

Whether you follow the course @home of @campus, you can always contact our supervisors to ask your questions, live or online. You can find all information about tailor-made guidance at Artevelde University of Applied Sciences at www.arteveldehogeschool.be/begeleiding-op-maat.

See you soon!
